Mullen, Robert— “I worked my entire life railroading. I started out working in the U.P. shop in Marysville the day after I graduated from Marysville High School in 1951. I worked two years for them and was drafted in the Army in 1953 and was put in the railroad battalion there for two years training people, with no railroad experience, how to be a railroader. In 1955, I was released from the Army and went to work for the Missouri Pacific Railroad as a brakeman. Several years before my retirement in 1998 the Union Pacific had acquired several railroads and Missouri Pacific was one of them so I was back working for Union Pacific until my retirement in 1998.” ..
